2008 Spring Training Planning

Stump the Panel: Bill Tierney sent an email to the committee explaining the Outline. Committee will provide paper to write down the violation code when the pictures pop up on the projector. 3 hours and 45 minutes or about an hour for each section.

Section 1 - consists of showing pictures of ten or so basic code violations to the group. We will have individuals mark the violation; cite NESC and who is responsible. Our panel of experts will determine the correct answer prior to, but explain the answers to the group. Have those participants that are first to answer the violation correctly stand up and award them with a $5.00 Starbucks card.

Section 2 – have attendees break into 10 people teams. The table in front will turn around and work with the table behind them. We will have ten or so pictures available, and give each team only one picture. Identify violation, responsible party, code section. Have the team present their answers and experts approve or deny. Have a prize such as the $5.00 Starbucks cards for the team who volunteered the answers.

Section 3 – Stump the experts. We will have some hard questions posed to experts (for example, Dave Marne, John Wallace, John Sullivan). We will ask people to bring in the pictures.

Finally, the Conflict resolution committee will talk about the response to the Charter/TPUD dispute.

Committee Updates portion:

Standards committee will go through the OJUA Inspection Form and mirror the Stump the Panel section with an interactive program.

Other:

OJUA Staff will get the logos for the sponsors. OJUA Staff will put together a PowerPoint intermission screensaver showing all the sponsors and their logos.

OJUA Staff will update the BEO and send out to the committee.

Stan Cowles has asked for Committee members to volunteer to be at the registration desk the morning of the 22nd. Vice-Chair Cowles also asked for Committee members to help with moving microphones around to participants and handouts in the training room.
